* For the years 1919 to 1928, inclusive, statistics for British Columbia include also statistics for the Yukon Territory; for the years 1929 to 1942, inclusive, statistics for the Yukon Territory are not included, so that the two periods are not strictly comparable. However, statistics for the Yukon Territory form only a very small part of the totals as given for the period 1919-28.

† Statistics of the non-ferrous metal smelting industry were included in manufactures for the first time in 1925.

‡ The large decrease in the number of employees since 1931 is not entirely due to the decline in manufacturing production. The decrease is in part due to a change in the method of computing the average annual employment of wage-earners.

The population estimates for later years follow: 1948, 1,082,000; 1949, 1,114,000.

It is estimated that the gross value of manufactured products for 1948 and 1949 would be $975,000,000 and $960,000,000 respectively.

The Department of Trade and Industry

maintains close co-operative contact with the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa, the Canadian Trade Commissioners throughout the World, the Agent-General in London, Foreign Consulates, the Trade Departments of other Provinces, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and the Industrial Bureaus of the Boards of Trade throughout Canada.

It is in constant touch with sources of supply. It stands ready to assist and advise the industrialists of British Columbia in all matters affecting new and existing markets, and to encourage the establishment of new enterprise in the Province.

For markets Overseas it does not parallel nor overlap the work of the Federal Trade Commissioners, but it seeks to co-ordinate their efforts in relation to the problems of British Columbia.

The Office of Trade Commissioner is ready to assist—

1. If you are having difficulties in replacing equipment, in finding new equipment, in arranging inventory disposal or warehousing facilities.

2. If you don't know what channels to use in approaches to new industrial services established by the Federal Government authorities.

3. If you don't know where to go for customs tariffs problems, or import tariffs or for Empire and foreign regulations.

4. If you want to survey possibilities for export or import business, find out how best to use the services of the Canadian Trade Commissioners, or how to secure related information from the Department of Trade and Commerce and others at Ottawa and Overseas.

5. If you want information in regard to sources of supply for raw material or other industry requirements.

6. If you want to know what is being done in this Province in connection with industrial and scientific research, or if you are looking for advice on research problems.

Introduction.

THE motive which prompts the continued publication and distribution of this British Columbia Trade Index is the desire to lend added impetus to the current rapid industrial expansion in our Province. Scores of new industries have gone into production and many old ones have greatly increased their former capacity.

The data brought up to date herein are intended to serve as a simplified ready reference for potential buyers at home and abroad, and should tend to play an important part in the further development of both the domestic and export trade of British Columbia.

This information has been compiled from returns sent in by the firms themselves to the Bureau of Economics and Statistics and from other departmental sources. With a view to having the index as complete as possible, it has been deemed advisable to use also other reliable sources of information in regard to firms who have neglected to report but who are known to be definitely manufacturing.

In order that articles of a similar nature would appear close to one another in the index, the word of the heading considered most important has been placed first, i.e., furniture, household, bedroom; fish, canned, salmon; castings, brass or bronze. In cases where the inversion seems misplaced, the headings have been listed in their customary sequence. Since precise commodity descriptions are of so much greater value than general ones, our tendency has been to use the general heading for those firms not supplying a more descriptive heading.

The address given of firms included in the index is that of the main place of business, usually the head office, although it may be both factory and office address. In order to facilitate the work involved in compiling the index, abbreviations have been resorted to, such as "Co., Ltd." for "Company, Limited."

This year the Bureau included with the questionnaires a schedule containing suggested headings to cover commodities being manufactured by firms in the various industries. As far as possible we have attempted to fit the commodities shown on the questionnaires to the headings shown on our code. This has been done in order to eliminate certain duplications in description and definition of commodities, and also to keep the master code from becoming cumbersome.

The Trade Index has been confined, as rigidly as possible, to the manufacturing industry.

We would like to extend our appreciation to those firms answering our questionnaire, because they have made this publication possible.
